

Ideas For Snack-Time!

It seems like my kids are always hungry. “Mom, can I have a snack?” is spoken in my house more often than I’d like to admit. I get bored and the kids get bored with the same ‘ol same ‘ol. So here’s a round-up of some snacks that will sure to please and keep things interesting (and are mostly healthier options).

For that sweet tooth...

We can't keep these in our house. PopCorners are definitely a family favorite. They are light, crunchy and shaped like triangles. They have yummy savory flavors but our favorites are the Carnival Kettle and Sweetly Salted Caramel. YUM.
